

NEW LEGISLATION ENABLES COMMERCIAL EXPLORATION AND USE OF SPACE RESOURCES—DEEP SPACE INDUSTRIES CONGRATULATES U.S. CONGRESS ON LANDMARK LEGISLATION

MOFFETT FIELD, CA—Deep Space Industries (DSI) congratulates the members of the United States Senate for passing legislation that significantly advances the cause of opening space resources to humanity. Title IV of S. 1297, also referred to as the U.S. Commercial Space Launch Competitive Act of 2015, promotes the right of U.S. citizens to engage in commercial exploration for, and commercial recovery of, space resources in accordance with international obligations and subject to supervision by the U.S. government.

“We are pleased to see the beginnings of legal clarity in the field of space resource utilization,” said Rick Tumlinson, Chair of Deep Space Industries. “This bill is a historic step forward and demonstrates that Congress can effectively and quickly pass legislation that is important to the country’s economic future. The hardworking legislators and their staff on Capitol Hill are to be commended.”

Title IV will spur an influx of capital into the industry and encourage entities to further develop plans and technologies to extract minerals from the vast numbers of asteroids and other resource-rich bodies in the solar system.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, title IV of this bill includes language from H.R. 1508, the Space Resource Exploration and Utilization Act. I introduced this bipartisan, bicameral bill with my colleague from the State of Washington, DEREK KILMER, and with support from many members of the Science, Space, and Technology Committee. I appreciate the work and the research of Senators PATTY MURRAY and MARCO RUBIO to introduce identical legislation in the U.S. Senate.

H.R. 1508 provides legal clarity that if a company mines resources from an asteroid in outer space, it has the right of ownership to those resources. It does so consistent with U.S. international obligations.

The right to explore and use outer space is found in article I of the Outer Space Treaty. Article VI of the Outer Space Treaty explicitly recognizes that nongovernmental entities, such as private corporations, may explore and use outer space, including the right to remove, take possession, and use in situ natural resources from celestial bodies.

In drafting and negotiating title IV, there was a challenge in determining the best language to use to recognize this right. The term “obtain” was ultimately chosen because it was technically and politically neutral. It is our intention that only through actually physically recovering a resource does a company have the right of ownership of those resources.

In short, Mr. Speaker, the U.S. Commercial Space Launch Competitive Act is a critical piece of legislation to the future of our commercial space industry and space exploration efforts.

Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleagues again for their work on this bill, and I urge passage of this important legislation.

Ms. EDWARDS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to remind our colleagues because this is really important legislation moving forward, and I think that as the ranking member, Ms. JOHNSON, has indicated and as I have, that it is not for lack of concern and support of the commercial space industry and sector that we raise concerns. This is an industry that is growing by leaps and bounds, that employs thousands of workers all across this country, and that is at the hub of entrepreneurship, research, and exploration.

It really is the 21st century future. It is really a question of what the rules of the game are going to be going forward, how to best protect the interests of taxpayers, how to protect the interests of the industry, and to see it grow in a healthy way. So I would hope that the majority would take into consideration some of the concerns that have been expressed and let’s use an opportunity over these next several months and years to make sure that we get it right for the industry that is a part of our future.

I would note that, even with the reservations that have been expressed, we pointed out a number of areas where there is strength in this legislation, but we haven’t gotten it all right. I would also remind the majority that, with respect to mining of asteroids, we are not doing that tomorrow, so all the more reason we should pay attention to the international treaties of which we are a part and to the needs and concerns of our international partners as we move forward; that is, we don’t have to rush to judgment where it concerns mining asteroids, as we are not doing that tomorrow.

So, Mr. Speaker, I would close by just saying that I believe that there is a great future in this industry, and I am excited about it. But I also know that we have to balance a lot of our interests to make sure that we pay attention, again, to safety and that we do it in the right kind of way.

As I began, I applaud the gentlewoman from Texas for making sure that the points of concern are on the record. I do not intend to oppose the bill, and I hope that we can move forward in the future to make sure that we really can provide for the kind of strength that the industry needs.

I want to take an opportunity to thank the staff: Pam Whitney of our Space Subcommittee, who has put in tireless work on this bill; Allen Li; Russell Norman and John Piazza, our counsel. Dick Obermann, our chief of staff on the committee, has put in tireless hours to try to get it right. I think for all of those who are part of the commercial space industry, we want you to go forward, we want you to succeed, and we want to make sure that the American public, that the American taxpayer, gets the benefit of the bargain.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. Speaker, today America stands at the beginning of a new era of innovation and adventure. Scientists, engineers, astronauts, and entrepreneurs are working in the deserts of California to embark on the next phase of our journey into space, and today we have the opportunity to aid them in that journey. Completing consideration of the SPACE Act in this Chamber today will help ensure America remains the leader in space exploration and innovation in the 21st century.

Mr. Speaker, we are here today thanks to the hard work of Chairman SMITH, his committee and their staff, especially Chris Wydler and Tom Hammond. I want to especially thank George Caram from my staff for his work as well. Because of their commitment after months of negotiations following the House passage of the original bill earlier this year, the SPACE Act passed out of the Senate unanimously. I look forward to the passage of this bill on the House floor today with similarly strong bipartisan support, and I urge my colleagues to vote with me to move America into the future.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

□ 1830

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from California (Mr. McCARTHY) that the House suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, H.R. 2262.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the Senate amendment was concurred in.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
